"Lovetime"

A little girl who could sing charmingly and dance deftly left her French rural home and went to Paris to sing and dance for a living; but ever, as she found, a love song of her own found its echo in her troubled heart, until at last the man of her dreams came to her.

It was moved that a town league be formed. That practice between possibiles, probabilities and others be indulged in and the best possible material for the regular team be chosen. The town league to operate until the regular league games commenced. This would also, it was suggested, give the younger players a better chance for the other wise would get. Good enthusiasm prevailed at the meeting and the fans will not be disappointed in that a representative team will be organised.

An Enjoyable Dramatic Production

One of the most enjoyable dramatic productions seen in this neighborhood in recent years was the play put on by a group of Mayfield thespians in aid of the hall and baseball team, in Mayfield schoolhouse, on Wednesday evening, April 19. The vehicle chosen was "Confusion" and a more felicitous decision could hardly have been made. Considering the handicaps of an exceedingly small stage, poor lighting, and the embarrassing nervousness of the audience to the players, the presentation was creditable in the extreme. Not once during the entire evening did the action lag and the illusion was maintained throughout despite some obvious and very trying drawbacks of a mechanical nature.

Among the cast the honors must be equally divided between Mrs. Thomas Rowles and Mr. Sturdy. Mrs. Rowles as the maiden lady of uncertain years who was not unwilling to venture into the more or less perilous state of matrimony was the part to the life. Action, intonation and carriage were alike perfect. Mr. Sturdy was fully as happily cast as the young married man who has recovered from the first fever of married life after the honeymoon. His work in the last act in which he is driven to distraction by the supposed faithlessness of his wife was of a very high order indeed.

Mrs. Sturdy as the young wife also secured a distinct success. Her manner and bearing throughout was easy and unforced and her enunciation was pleasingly clear. Miss C. Rowles and Mr. Rivers as the maid and butler were well cast, though their diction was not as clear in portions of the dialogue as could have been desired. Miss Rowles and Mr. Rowles as the affectionate and yet unmarried couple were adequate to the demands made upon

NOTICE

NOTICE is hereby given that a petition has been presented to the Council of the Village of Empress under the provisions of the Early Closing Act for the passing of the following closing by-law:

"Each and every place of business carrying on a retail trade in the following lines, namely: 'Drugs, Jewelry, Fancy Groceries, Groceries, Men's Wear, Boots and Shoes, General Merchandise, Ice, Lard and Insurance, Meat Market, Hardware, Harness, Ladies' Wear and Barber Shop, shall on each and every Wednesday between the hours of 1 P.M. and 4 P.M. be closed. This by-law shall be effective from the 24th day of May to the 26th day of July inclusive."

NOTICE is hereby given that objections to the petition presented to the Council for the passing of such by-law on the ground that such petition is insufficiently signed or otherwise affecting the validity or sufficiency thereof must be filed with the Secretary of the Village of Empress on or before the 26th day of May, 1922, and that if no such objections are filed before the said date the Council will forthwith proceed to pass the said closing by-law.

them. A pleasing bit was that of Mr. Finco as representative of the law. Mr. Payton, too, was heard and seen to advantage as the party and "sing" physician, the mender of "liv-ers." T. Rowles as the elderly bachelor, the unwitting "chick" of the piece, was nothing more or less than Tom Rowles and for the purpose of this particular production that sufficed admirably.

The entire cast deserve nothing less than the highest praise for their courage in attempting as pretentious an undertaking as they had to overcome and it is to be hoped as soon as the exigencies of seating permit we may be favored with their appearance in our own theatre.

Mr. Alf Housen says, "It's a Lovely War," which helped in the general enjoyment of the evening.

Following the play a box social and dance were held and both were a distinct success, artistically as well as financially. In the capable hands of T. Rowles the boxes realised a goodly sum and we understand that the funds of the baseball club will be handsomely augmented as a result.

Bindloss Enters Baseball League

Gleannan Withdraw and Bindloss Takes Their Place

Lloyd George Send Telegram, "Will be in the League Stronger than Ever."

A meeting of the Empress and District baseball league was held in J. Cusack's office on Friday last, April 21. President T. Rowles was in the chair.

Discussion arose as to the teams which will form the league. The Chairman stated that while they did not have it in written form, Mr. J. Doig had told him that Gleannan would not enter a team in the league this year. No representatives of Gleannan were present and the resignation was accepted.

Delegates of the Bindloss Club were present. They sought admission to the league on behalf of their club and were accepted. The proviso, however, was made that they be allowed to play their away game with Lloyd George at Empress as the distance to Lloyd George was too great. This also applies to Lloyd George in their away game with Bindloss and no difficulty is expected regarding this arrangement.

The appointment of game umpires was talked over and the names of Messrs. Alf Housen, G. S. Tucker, E. McCune, W. Scott will be recommended to the executive as umpires for the year, and that they receive $2.50 for each league game they umpire.

The first game in the league is to be played on May 24. The schedule is to be drawn up on Saturday, April 29. Games will be on Wednesdays and Saturdays of each week.

Gillett's Lye can be used for so many purposes that their enumeration here would be impossible. For example, Gillett's Lye can be used for making soap, in washing dishes, also as a disinfectant. For softening hard water. As a means of removing grease and smoke stains. These are only a few of its many uses, but they serve to indicate what has made Gillett's Lye such a general household utility to-day.

Assets and Liabilities

The importance, in fact the necessity, of any man engaged in business having an accurate statement of his assets and liabilities is universally recognized. It is essential that such a statement be revised from time to time and kept up to date and the latest statement comes with revised ones in order to determine whether financial improvement is being effected or if the reverse is true.

Such a statement is of first importance to the business man in all his dealings with his bank and his creditors. Without such a statement, a bank will not make loans, nor can a man establish a satisfactory rating for himself.

In determining the financial standing of a man by such a statement which is regarded as the most important, his assets or his liabilities? It appears to be generally believed that a man's financial standing is revealed by his assets. Of course, his assets have a bearing on the subject, but it is his liabilities which more clearly indicate a man's financial standing.

Liabilities can only be learned by a realization of assets. Assets, on the other hand, may shrink, frequently due to the process of realization. A statement of assets, therefore, usually represents something of greater value than is actually possessed, and allowance must be made for this. Liabilities, on the other hand, may be understated, not only because of the character of the liability, but it may happen, and must therefore be taken into account.

The outstanding difficulty in Western Canada today is not that the average farmer's assets are not good, but that his liabilities are too great; that while he cannot realize on his assets at the present time except at enormous loss, his liabilities are not and are not likely to be.

One lesson to be learned from the experiences of the past few years is the importance of exercising care in incurring liabilities. There is such a thing as being cured, rather than cured with such costs. A liability once incurred, must be discharged, regardless of ability to realize on assets. The contracting of liabilities should therefore be guarded against all along the line, and every human precaution taken to protect oneself against the ultimate time of payment.

But it is not solely in the realm of business that a person should make a close study of his assets and liabilities, but more particularly their liabilities. Every man and every woman has a niche to fill in his or her community. In filling that niche they have certain assets and certain liabilities. They may have the assets of good health, or a splendid education, or wealth, or gifts of leadership, or inherited abilities. But they may also have the liability of an unmanageable temper, or the faculty of making enemies rather than friends, or a generally disagreeable disposition. And one such liability outweighs all assets when it comes to permanently establishing one self in the esteem of neighbors and in the ability to render service in a community.

Cultivate your assets, and protect them, too. If you have an asset in a strong, healthy body and upon this are founding your worldly success, safeguard it. To lose health is to lose all with nothing but liabilities left, and when you would lack the ability to meet. If your main asset is wealth, it may disappear. But while cultivating and protecting your assets, give even closer heed to your liabilities. They will mark everything unless they are reduced and ultimately eliminated. Pay off that unmanageable temper, that caustic tongue, that mind disposition, just as rapidly as you possibly can.

Remember your liabilities! Keep close tab on them! Check them up frequently, and if you cannot find a lessening of liabilities you have good reason for alarm. Unless overcome, whether they be of the financial or other kind, they will remain up to the end.

Council of Women on Immigration

Quality, Not Quantity to be Sought in Picking Immigrants

At the concluding session of the Canadian Council of Women on Immigration, the council met with the sub-committee of the Cabinet on Immigration, and presented the result of its deliberations in the form of a number of recommendations. It expressed appreciation of the statement of Hon. C. Stewart, minister of immigration, to the effect that a large immigration programme was considered impossible in view of the unemployment situation and endorsed the opinion that quality rather than quantity of immigration must be the first consideration in building up Canadian national life.

The council recommended that the Government should make further efforts to familiarize intending immigrants with the actual conditions in Canada and with the rules and regulations restricting admission at the ports. It also recommended that, as far as possible, every immigrant should undergo a medical and mental examination before embarkation and that a medical adviser with psychiatric training be retained on the staff of the London office.

It makes Breathing Easy. The condition of the lungs and the struggle for breath, too familiar evidence of tubercular trouble, cannot be cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This is the famous remedy which is known far and wide for its complete effectiveness even under advanced conditions of the disease.

It finds that dancet, at a ball which lasted from 10 p.m. until 5 a.m., made 24,000 steps, amounting to a distance of about 20 miles, and found that women who would have walked a hundred yards in the street, preceded a motor car.

A Swiss doctor, by means of a pedometer, estimated that he had made about 6,750,000 steps in a year.

Look Towards Canada

Many American Farmers Express Desire to Take Up Land in Canadian West

(Special Correspondent by G. C. Porter of Winnipeg)

St. Paul, Minn.—This is the gateway through which has flowed many thousands seeking homes in the Canadian Northwest. This flood reached high tide during the first eight years of the century. It gradually receded until it reached a mere dribble during the war. There are many circumstances just now to suggest a revival of the movement over the line to the north.

During the past two days I have conversed with prominent business men, including bankers, grain dealers, millers and real estate men who are in other ways interested in emigration. I have gone into the subject with Dominion Government officials connected with the work and employees of the National Land Department of the Canadian railways and have examined letters from thousands who express a desire to emigrate to the Canadian Northwest or to buy land in the western provinces.

Tenant farmers who find themselves unable to continue on farms on five hundred dollar per acre farms in the Central Western States will continue to migrate, and a great number of Canadian prairie this year and probably in increasing numbers for several years to come. Many of them have the cash, but most of them lack the valuable experience on the land, crops or farm implements, household goods and stock. Many, however, will make small payments on farms they purchase.

Such well informed men in this country as R. A. Garrett, Dominion Government agent; H. A. Davis, head of the National Railway Land Sales Department of St. Paul; M. K. MacArthur, district representative here of the Canadian Pacific land resources; and E. H. Thornton, Calgary, representative of the Canadian Pacific land resources agency in the United States, are confident there is to be a very considerable movement of desirable farmers from the United States to Canada. They believe that any plan adopted to encourage or help farmers from the States to settle on the Canadian prairie land and dig it out of the soil should be encouraged to that end and not obstructed by technical regulations. They believe that the course they are talking in terms of offers of the soil. A factor in the improved view taken of emigration to Canada here, is the fact that the grain and the rapid expansion of the Canadian prairie to the north.

Sciatia for Years But is Well Again

WHY C. LACHANCE RECOMMENDS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Quebec Man Relieved of Long Suffering Blows Praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills. "Well, Vallee, Gagne, Co., is a well-known resident here is shouting praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills. 'I had sciatia, and rheumatism,' Dr. Lachance said, 'my trouble started from an cold. I perspired freely with the best exertion. 'Then came the sciatia and rheumatism and for five years I was a sufferer.'"

"I took six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Now my health has come back and I tell everyone who suffers from sciatia, rheumatism or kidney trouble to use Dodd's Kidney Pills." Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. They put the kidneys in condition to strain the urine out of the blood. Without toxic acid in the blood there can be no rheumatism or sciatia.

"Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make healthy kidneys."

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for babies. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrup. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulence, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. A Servant of Empire

Lord Northcliffe has Accomplished Much in Few Months

During his travels Lord Northcliffe has rendered great service to the Empire. He has earned the gratitude of Australia by pressing her need for more population, he has told the blunt truth about India, he has disclosed the tolls taken by the British in Malaya, and he has exposed the Palestine blunder. The French and English have thanked him warmly for his tribute to their great work in the east, and he has shed much light on the conduct of Chinese politics. A wonderful achievement in a few months!—London Sunday Pictorial.

The worms that infest children from their birth are of two kinds, those that feed on the intestines and those that are found in the blood. The latter are more destructive, as they cling to the walls of the intestines and if not interfered with, will leave there. Miller's Worm Powders dislodge both kinds and while expelling them from the system serve to repair the damage they have caused.

Character Counts

Hope for These Who Have Not Been Endowed with Special Qualification

There is reason to think that much of the world's best work has been done by men who have triumphed over intellectual as well as physical defects. The observer is not necessarily the one with the best eyesight; the best thinker is not necessarily the one with the best brain. Lacedo Herra was half blind, and there have been eminent mathematicians who were clumsy at adding figures. A defect may be allowed for and circumvented, and splendid things may be done by an untiring will even with defective tools. But all these reasons we should be a little cautious about taking too much credit to a view of the mind and its powers. The artist must have eyesight, yet a certificate from the oculist is not the essential thing in deciding to learn to paint. No more is a certificate from the brain essential for intellectual work.—Springfield Republican.

Tree-Planting Lecture Car to Visit Empress

The Canadian Forestry Association's "Tree Planting Car" specially equipped as a motion picture auditorium will arrive at Empress on Saturday, May 6. The Car is being sent through the West by the Association through the courtesy of the railway companies, and a group of prairie province subscribers who defray all the expenses. The one and only object is to encourage the planting of trees as windbreaks to prevent soil drifting, to moderate wind damage to standing crops, to help conserve moisture and to beautify the home surroundings.

Archibald Mitchell, the well-known western tree planting authority, assisted by A. G. Coe of Ottawa, will deliver lectures daily at 8 p.m. and in the afternoon to school children, which will be illustrated by interesting motion pictures and stereoscopic views. All lectures will be held in the Car which has been fitted up as a travelling theatre and carries its own electric generating plant and lighting system.

A hearty invitation is extended to every citizen to visit the Car, see the movies and hear Mr. Mitchell who will give a practical demonstration and explanation of what trees can do and have done in anti-drought crop waste, and how the planting of trees on the prairies will help to eliminate the "bad years." It is a unique event that is attracting country-wide attention.

The car will be at Patricia May 1st, Duchess the 2nd, Jenner the 3rd, Idlesleigh the 4th and after leaving Empress will be at Estuary the 8th, Leader the 9th, continuing along the line Empress Swift Current line till it reaches the latter point on May 20th.

Lost Cities

Finding Incredible Ruins of an Ancient Civilization

Unless you study such publications as the Journal of the Royal Geographical Society you can have but little idea of the number of people who are occupied in "digging" in Egypt.

In the sands of Egypt, the ruins of Central Africa, the jungles of Ceylon and Malaya, and the tropical forests of South America, ancient architects are constantly at work delving for the relics of lost civilizations.

During the war this work naturally came to an end, but now the matters are gradually becoming more normal the broken threads are being spliced and this fascinating work is again in progress.

Wonderful finds have been made in the past, but they are as nothing compared with what the future is bound to bring, for there are treasures of the past waiting everywhere for the pick and shovel of the explorer.

Take South America, for instance. All over Brazil, from the east coast right back into the unknown and uncharted mountains of the interior, there are to be found incredible ruins of an enormously ancient civilization.

Here are inscriptions, statues, and in characters curiously like Greek letters, but at present quite incomprehensible. Yet there is always the possibility that an ancient "Rosetta stone" might be discovered giving the clue required for the translation of these writings.

And once this was found we should be able to collect the amazing history of the great Tula ruins, which at an immensely remote period built giant cities in the continent and cultivated great tracts of what now appear to be primeval forest.

Everyone has heard of the vast ruins of Zimbabwe, in Southern Rhodesia, the golden city, which is said to have been the capital of King Solomon. North of the Zambesi, deep in almost unknown bush, lies another and even greater city, the ruins of which, massive brickwork and slave pits cut in the solid rock. Though explorers have visited it little or no digging has yet been done there. In the "Journal" of the African Society for July, 1908, there are some notes and drawings of the city of Ife, which is situated in Southern Nigeria. Some twelve feet beneath the present surface there have been unearthed wonderfully worked carvings of quartz, bronze castings and many other objects, giving proof of the existence there in long past times of a civilization apparently equal to that of Greece. The natives of today who inhabit this region have no knowledge of the working of stone.

In Turkestan, on the right bank of the Amu Darya, and near the Bokhara town of Karkh, is an utterly ground city carved in the solid rock. Here is an immense labyrinth of streets and passages, with houses two or three stories in height. Pots, urns, vases and coins have been recovered, but much remains to be done.

Ceylon is full of lost or partly buried cities, affording work for archaeologists for many years to come, with in farther India and Annam the jungle hides ruins of such amazing dimensions that they dwarf even the wonders of old Egypt—Christopher Lee in the Daily Mail, London.

To Help Livestock Industry

Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture Will Work Together

With the allocating to different organizations and governmental departments of the various matters decided upon at the two-day conference of federal and provincial departmental commissioners of the four western provinces, and representatives from various countries, the meeting of the Dominion and provincial departments of agriculture was brought to a close.

As a result of the two-day conference certain pronouncements were made looking to the bettering of the livestock industry of Western Canada and decisions were reached to put into effect these pronouncements.

In summarized form, these agencies and pronouncements are as follows: Market requirements—Federal and provincial departments of agriculture. Negotiations with Great Britain and U.S.A. for opening of markets for surplus Canadian cattle—Federal department of agriculture.

Coordinating of shipping interests—Federal department of agriculture. Winter feeding to distributing markets—Provincial departments of agriculture and cooperation of federal department.

Dehorning—Provincial department of agriculture and agricultural interests. Stock shipping days to reduce shrinkage—Largely through local organizations, stockyards and railways.

Feeding and transit rates—Federal department of agriculture. Proper loading—Provincial department and local cattle associations.

Publicity—Provincial department of agriculture. Slaughtering and sale of public cattle—All federal and provincial agencies. Instructional work respecting production, marketing and quality—Federal department of agriculture.

A cooperative attempt is to be immediately undertaken by the federal department of agriculture, the agricultural departments of each of the four western provinces and all agricultural institutions as well as cattle associations for the purpose of placing the livestock industry of Western Canada on a permanent and paying basis.

Federal Government Disposes of Land in the West

From September 1, 1905, to December 31, 1921, the Federal government sold 5,528,878 acres of farm land in Saskatchewan for $16,619,107, an average price of three dollars and 40 cents per acre. In Alberta during the same period the government sold 2,941,218 acres for $13,722,264, also at an average price of three dollars and 40 cents per acre. The money collected from the sale of school lands is held in trust for the provinces.

Canada's Need of Population The Duke of Devonshire, former governor-general of Canada, addressing the Rotary Club of Sheffield at a club luncheon, dwelt on Canada's need of population. He expressed the view that it was essential that the development of the Dominion and its direction should be in the hands of British people, whether born in the Old Country or Canada.

Few Fatalities on Canadian Roads

Only Four Passengers Killed Out of Over Fifty-one Million Carried in Year

Of more than 51 million passengers carried on Canadian railways during the year ending December 31, 1921, only four were killed and 210 injured, according to statistics compiled in the annual report of the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada, tabled in the House. The total number of passengers carried during the year was 51,215,421. A total of 317 employees were engaged in rail road work during that period, and of this number 91 were killed and 1,341 injured.

There were a total of 1,321 accidents on railways during the year in which 245 persons were killed and 3,358 injured, as compared with 2,092 accidents covering 254 killed and 2,930 injured during the previous 12 months.

Of the 143 persons, other than employees or passengers killed during the year 1921 in railway accidents, 61 persons, or 43 per cent, were trespassers, the report states, and of 214 persons injured, 91 persons, or 38 per cent, were trespassers.

Applications to the board during the year numbered 2,161 and orders issued in the same period, 1,551.

An Amazing Watch

Has Four Dials and Runs for Thirty Hours

One of the most remarkable watches in the world was recently constructed by a leading British firm. The front dial of the watch, upon which ordinary time is indicated, carries four small dials. One of these shows the days of the week and the date of the month. The other three indicate the phases of the moon and the four seasons. The watch is also a recording chronograph showing hours and minutes, seconds and fifths of seconds. There is also an indicator and pointer which shows at any time what the watch time is wound up. The main dial also carries a further hand distinguished by a small sun near its outer end. This hand shows the position of the sun before or after clock time. The watch strikes the hours and the quarters, and carries the hours, quarters and minutes at any time desired. On the back of the watch there is a dial showing the sidereal day of 24 hours. It also carries a star chart or planisphere. The point on the chart corresponding to the North Pole is set at the centre of this dial and the exposed portion of the chart reveals the portion of the sky visible in the latitude in which the watch is used. The movements of the watch are arranged in three tiers and are fitted throughout with diamond and ruby jewels. The watch runs for 30 hours with one winding. It was constructed to order and cost one thousand guineas.

Business on the Mend

Rise in Price of Wheat Creates a Better Feeling
There is a decided note of optimism becoming apparent throughout Western Canada.

The immediate cause of the better feeling is the marked rise in the price of wheat. To nothing in Western Canada react more quickly to little else will it react in a general way at all. The natural born pessimist, of course, says that the rise in the price of wheat is due to special and temporary causes, and that the improvement, visible as it is, cannot be expected to continue.

The price of wheat may be to some small extent a premature or temporary phenomenon, but it is nevertheless part of a general process observable in every field of basic production the world over, and already casting its reflection upon railway business and shipping and finance, even if it has not yet reached the more subsidiary and dependent industries.

Our prosperity here rests directly upon basic production and its necessary transportation and distribution facilities. We feel the pulse of improvement in the production of wheat from us that permanent improvement is on the way, rather than that we should take it from them that it is a question of time or of degree, because they are still in the dump—The Winnipeg Tribune.

DO YOU SMOKE TOO MUCH?

There are many men on whose hearts a nervous system tobacco produces the most serious results. It causes the heart to beat too fast, the frequency of its beat, makes the hands tremble, and causes a general sense of nervousness and loss of sleep.

To counteract this demoralizing influence on the heart and nerves there is no remedy so equal.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

The heart is the most strong and steady, restore tone and vigor to the nerves, and to the vital system. Mr. Frank Lutes, 17 Terrace Hill St., Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I had been troubled with palpitation of the heart for some time, and I felt as if it would bother me all day. The doctor said I was overworked, and I sometimes I did not eat tobacco. When I would get a spell my heart would pound and I would break out in perspiration, and get so weak I would be unable to do any work; also in the night I would wake up with my heart beating so fast I should say, about 120 beats a minute. About three years ago I bought a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, took them, and found that they did the job. I feel fine and have gained over 20 pounds in weight."

Leather for Kid Gloves

Goats kept in France Specially for Glove Making

French goats are famous all over the world, and in the mountains of France goats are kept especially for the leather of their skins. The kids that are used, not those of the full-grown goats—hence the name, kid.

The goat is quite art in getting the skin of the correct texture, for it must be soft and delicate, and free from hair. The goats are kept in the mountains, and the kids are not allowed to roam at their own sweet will over the mountains and take care of themselves as the flocks of goats usually do. If they eat grass their skin coarsens; so they are kept closely penned, and given special food. Caring them also prevents them from scratching or brushing their skins, and so destroying their value.

The best condition is reached when the kids are a few months old; when they are killed, and the hides sent to the tanneries and prepared for glove making.

No Dragging Competition

The annual road district competition conducted under the auspices of the Saskatchewan Department of Highways has been held, and no competitions will be held this year. H. S. Carpenter, deputy minister of highways, states that in the opinion of the government, the object of these competitions, namely to stimulate intelligent use of the road has been accomplished. The first step in being taken as an economy measure.

Mrs. Llewellyn Was Discouraged Over Her Health, Says Husband

"My wife is the very picture of health now and she tells me she never felt better in her life. We certainly believe in Tanlac at our house," said Arthur Llewellyn, 428 Alexander Ave., Winnipeg, Man.

"My wife had been in failing health for so long that I was very much alarmed about her, especially since the many things she had tried failed to do her any good. She even spent some time in the country, but this also failed to help her and she came home utterly discouraged. I don't believe anybody ever had a worse or more stubborn case of stomach trouble than she did."

"Tanlac was what she needed and she hadn't been taking it long before she was on the road to recovery. It not only has toned up her stomach so that she eats what ever she wants, but she has the color of health in her cheeks now and apparently is as strong and healthy as anyone could wish to be."

Tanlac is built up all good druggists.

Do you remember when I told you about the time Mr. Seal traveled and traveled to reach the East of the Earth. It took him twice as long as it would have taken anyone else because, as he has no feet, he cannot walk, but has to shoot himself along in his flippers.

I have several letters from readers asking what the difference is between Seals, Walrus and Sea Lions.

To begin with, there are two kinds of Seals—the Hair Seal and the Fur Seal, and it is this latter one that is so persistently hunted for its beautiful, valuable fur. The Hair Seal differs from the Fur Seal, as far as skin covering is concerned, in having no thick coating of fur over the long coarse hair. Sea Lions, which are very rare, are often wrongly called Seal Bears. The Seal is a hair-seal, while the Sea Lion is a fur-seal. They are not at all closely related group. In spite of their formidable appearance Sea Lions are timid creatures, easily led and as easily driven even by such trivial means as threatening them with waving flags and spread umbrellas. They are hunted for their oil and other body products, and not for fur.

As for Walrus, though related to the great Seal family they are very different, being built like a man and extremely clumsy. While young they are rather fat and heavy, but, losing this as they grow, the older ones are almost naked. Their greatest pride lies in a pair of enormous ivory tusks, while, strange to say, the tusks of the female are much longer than those of the male. They dig with these for clams and mollusks (though they also eat seaweed), and these are used as well for climbing over the ice covered rocks and crevices of the ice.

The whole Seal family is distinctly related to the Bear. As far as their life habits are concerned, Seals, Sea Lions and Walrus live in very much the same way. Perhaps you remember what Mr. Seal told Stella long ago when he went to see her with the tusked away from in his old Seal heart to be very brave. Do you remember his reason? "Well, I'll tell you. Mr. Seal then said to our little Whirling Fairy: 'We old family Seals keep our eyes (for we have none but one) on chosen ice ground, and then a lot of crazy young boys who want to play and fight and trouble because they think some money to catch any thing else suddenly come along. They are so full of spirits that they change all our peace and quiet into a perfect riot and try to break up our families, and we old fellows fed a little out of it. I want to be awfully strong so as to be able to protect my family.'

Although spending most of their time in the sea, Seals, Sea Lions and Walrus will pick out favored positions on land, and it is a matter of jealousy, pride and much fighting for each Seal to get an inch of the greatest number of cows (as Mrs. Seal is called) to share this special province. The young bulls are called bachelor, and these, and these, whose lovely fur has a beautiful blue and green color, are secured by many seasons of fighting. The old bulls are the ones most hunted for their pelts.

Pups, as the young of Seals, Sea Lions and Walrus are called, have a very hard babyhood, for, oddly enough, instead of instinctively taking to their future watery home, they have to be severely taught to swim by their mothers. "I say severely, because there is nothing gentle or tender to those swimming lessons!" The backward and stupid are left to shift for themselves or die!

Right, Perhaps, but Wrong—"Maybe"

"Have you the book called 'Who's Who and What's What?' by Jerome K. Jerome?" asked a customer of the proprietor of a little second-hand book shop. "I think so" replied the latter as he began to run his finger over the shelves. "Successful in his search, he called to his son in the back of the shop. 'Ikey have we dot book called Vich is vich and vot is vot by Jerome K. Jerome?' 'Maybe I guess ve hav' replied the junior partner, who took part in the search. Their joint efforts, however, seemed unavailing, when Ikey, with a puzzled expression, said: 'Mister, we don't haf 'Vich is vich and vot is vot by Jerome K. Jerome may be it is 'Vich it is and vot it ain't, No?'"

After a little further delving into the shelves, Ikey had an inspiration and said: "Mister, may be you vant: 'Who he is and vot he has' by Dun and Bradstreet."

YOU CAN GET 150 MORE FOR A BUSHEL OF WHEAT

That Is What You Can Do Provided You Take Advantage of Our Offer

We have made arrangements with the E. H. Heath Co. Limited who publish the CANADIAN POWER FARMER whereby we are able to offer that farm magazine together with our own weekly at the one price for both papers.

The CANADIAN POWER FARMER is Western Canada's biggest farm monthly. It is now in its twentieth year which means that it is thoroughly established throughout the West. It deals with the mechanical side of the farm. Every issue is full of helpful hints and experiences on the operation of all kinds of farm machinery from a washing-machine to a tractor. Its editor is a motor car for the purpose of studying the mechanical needs of the farmers. He visited the farmers, lived with them and worked with them. The results of his trip will appear during the next twelve months.

This offer may be withdrawn at any time. Without doubt your intention is to renew for this weekly, then why not take a year's subscription to this weekly together with for the same price as this weekly alone. This is where you make $1.50 a bushel of wheat.
